Additional Risks Identified For Finzean Hall

The Hirer is responsible for ensuring that a proper appraisal of the use of the hall, car park and amenity ground is undertaken prior to taking occupation in the light of the needs of the users. In undertaking this appraisal, the attention of the Hirer is drawn to the following areas that may pose a particular risk. However, this is not necessarily a comprehensive listing and it is the responsibility of the Hirer to ensure that other risks are identified in the light of the characteristics of the user. Where necessary, it will be the Hirer's responsibility to draw the attention of users to these points.

1. All users should take care in crossing the road from the car park, as there is sometimes heavy and fast moving traffic using the road adjacent to the hall.
2. Take care (eg by positioning a person at the front door) to ensure that small children or others who may be unsafe in traffic do not have unsupervised access to the front door; note also that the fire doors open easily on push bars and that outside there are gates providing access to the road from the amenity ground
3. Candles may be used as table decoration, but must be held in proper candleholders. It is the responsibility of the Hirer to ensure that all candles and naked lights are extinguished before leaving the building
4. Ensure that only responsible people have access to the kitchen, take particular care using the gas cooker and ensure that the high level tap supplying it is turned off after use.
5. The sets of folding doors separating foyer from the large and small halls are heavy and should not be re-positioned without prior authority. Moving them inexpertly can be dangerous and can damage the doors.
6. The hatch from the kitchen is heavy, and it is advisable for the final raising of the hatch to be undertaken from outside the kitchen. The top securing bolts should always be positioned in place when the hatch is open.
7. Use the dropping off point and the track down the side of the hall only for dropping off and unloading; Please do not leave vehicles parked anywhere other than the car park when the hall is in use. This is to ensure easy emergency exit from the building and ready access for emergency vehicles
